Improvements to 'chaotic' roadworks on the M1 in Northamptonshire have 'clearly not done enough' to slow down the increase in accidents, an MP has said.

Despite being subject to a 50mph speed limit, the 23-mile length of road between junction 14 and 19 in the county has remained a 'crash blackspot' ever since works started in August 2014.

And just last Friday, a lorry driver died in a fatal collision with a car transporter which was stationary on the hard shoulder.

With frequent accidents being recorded almost every week in the roadworks area, Northampton North MP Michael Ellis is now demanding for more to be done.

"I am very concerned about this," Mr Ellis said.

"I know that some improvement have been made since last contacted the Highways Agency. But clearly, they have not done enough.

"What I think we need is an increase in marked vehicle patrols through the roadworks, because that has an effect of slowing down drivers which reduces the likelihood of accidents."

The current roadworks which are taking place include the central barrier being replaced, and are part of plans to convert the stretch of road into a smart motorway - which allows the hard shoulder to be used during busy periods.

They are expected to be completed by September 2015. However, more works will then begin on converting the same stretch of road into a smart motorway.

Awards ceremony was a Wonderland of young talent

In an often overlooked section of Alice In Wonderland, Alice is called on to judge a story telling competition and come up with prizes on the spot.

I felt a little of that when I arrived at the Northampton College BEMA Awards and found I was presenting one.

To be fair, I had been informed, but I had missed the message and had turned up with My One True Love looking very much more like an audience member than someone who should be on stage.

The awards were celebrating a broad range of achievements in media skills, from film making to game design and I was presenting an award to the top web designer.

My One True Love, who was disadvantaged to be relying on me for her information, had heard about all this at the last minute and discovered she would be presenting the award for print design.

In Alice In Wonderland of course, the

I did spend some time rearranging the contents of my pockets so I looked less like a badly dressed scarecrow big problem was that the competition was awful and Alice only had what was in her pockets to give out as rewards.

Fortunately for us that was where the similarity ended, although I did spend some time rearranging the contents of my pockets (so I looked less like a badly stuffed scarecrow), the talent and the rewards on show were real. It was an excellent evening, well done to all the winners.

I can't help feeling sorry for Northampton Big Brother contestant Aaron Frew who was unceremoniously dumped out of the show following a lighthearted 'flashing' incident. He exposed himself while teasing another male housemate, who complained but did not call for Aaron to be thrown out.

Since then a female professional dominatrix has entered the house and lapped and exposed herself uninvited to another contestant without repercussions. Double standards?

HOLED UP: This sinkhole in Lower Mounts is believed to have been caused by a leak

Work to repair a second sinkhole

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.

The second sinkhole in just over a month has opened up in Northampton town centre.

This time a small hole, measuring about two foot wide and four foot deep, has appeared in the pavement behind BBC Radio Northampton, on Lower Mounts.

It was first spotted on Saturday afternoon, and the area was quickly sealed off by police while workers from Anglia Water arrived to determine the cause.

A spokesperson later told the radio station that it was most likely an underground leak which caused the sinkhole, adding that the recent demolition of the Greyfriars bus station was not the cause.

The spokesman said: "With the amount of infrastructure we have underground it's often quite difficult to say what may have been the exact cause, but we are fairly confident with this one that water running from a leak has undermined the road surface causing the road to dip and the hole to be created."

"While having an impact it does mean the positive side is now the leak's repaired, and once we do fill the hole back in, there is a very minimal risk of something like this happening again in that area."

The water company's work to repair the leak and retarmac the pavement was expected to be completed by yesterday.

This sinkhole comes just six weeks after a much larger hole opened up in the road on Earl Street. It was never established what caused the hole.

Old logo returns

Northamptonshire Police is to restore its original Force logo, replacing the current one introduced in 1995.

The move will see the Force's original Star of Bath badge restored as the official emblem. A staff survey carried out earlier this year found 88 per cent voted in favour of restoring the force's original logo.

'Smiler' rescue

Northamptonshire air ambulance crews were scrambled to a roller coaster crash at Alton Towers in Staffordshire yesterday.

Two crews attended the incident at around 3pm to find four teenagers with serious leg injuries. Two carriages had collided on the 'Smiler' ride. Full story online.

Revolutions on two wheels

A bike recycling scheme has been launched in Northampton, H&P. Editor Steve Scoles went along to join the celebrations...

More than 100 cyclists gathered to celebrate the launch of the Cycle Recycle scheme on Northampton's Racecourse.

Along with the Big Bike Revival it aims to get more people on two wheels when they travel to work.

A workshop has been set up at the pavilion supported by the Umbrella Fair Organisation, where old bikes donated by the public are made roadworthy and resold at rock bottom prices.

A marquee with music and food was set up outside the pavilion and the Critical Mass group staged a ride to mark the occasion and I joined them.

You might think that a slow moving peloton of cyclists reminding car drivers that they cannot have the roads all to themselves would be a recipe for trouble.

But the first thing you notice when you join a Critical Mass ride is the overwhelmingly friendly reaction it gets along the way.

Pedestrians have got their phones out taking pictures and drivers hoot and wave as you pass by.

The other thing you notice is the wide variety of cyclists taking part.

There are those with all the kit and there are those whose bikes look like a crime against science.

There are dreadlocks, kagools, piercings and shopping baskets. Everyone with a bell rings it like crazy.

Up front was Reg Pollard of Sustrans and someone in a honey monster costume.

They were followed by penny farthings, choppers, Bromptons, low slung bikes that looked like acoustic Harley Davidsons, a magnificent trike, an excellent tandem and then a host of other less spectacular machines (including my fold-up mountain bike).

We got to the White Elephant traffic lights and Reg called back: "We're going through on red. Pass it on."

Wow, I thought, going through on red. Power to the pedallers.

The point was keeping the whole group together at a nice steady pace (which is the safest and sanest way to run the ride) but it still felt a little revolutionary.

We swung right into Abington with ride stewards swooping into position to block off junctions, allowing the rest of us to pass by smoothly.

Time and time again the motorists we encountered were waving and hooting their approval.

The one exception came when we reached Park Avenue and a driver attempted to overtake everyone – about a dozen cars worth in distance – on the wrong side of the road. Some little hatchback roared past in a low gear and came face to face with a bewildered and alarmed lady motorist coming the other way.

There could have been a very stupid road accident. No matter how annoying it is to sit behind a bunch of cyclists for a couple of minutes on a sunny Friday evening it is not THAT annoying. Whoever it was behind the wheel pretty much proved the point that there are drivers who take moronic risks around cyclists. There is still educating to be done. Speed is not, after all, just about going fast – it is about going fast at the right time.

We wound up at All Saints where the whole group was invited to pose for photographs with bikes held triumphantly aloft and then returned to the Racecourse pavilion by way of Kettering Road.

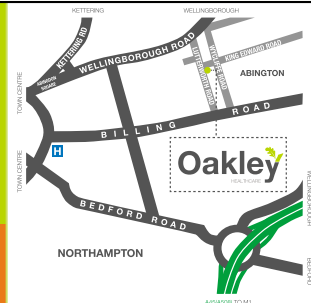

They are a friendly bunch to be with and I don't doubt I'll be out on another ride with them before long.

A43 bypass plan set for approval

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A plan to divert the A43 near Northampton and make 1.6 miles of it a dual carriageway is set to be agreed.

No objections have been raised by highways bosses to the major A43 Moulton Bypass plan, which will see the road divert north of Round Spinney roundabout, running closer to the nearby industrial estate.

The road would curve around behind the houses to the east of the existing A43 before joining a new roundabout at the Overstone Road/

Overstone Lane junction.

A new road linking to Sywell Lane would also be created from the new roundabout and, as part of the scheme, The Avenue and Overstone Lane would be closed to traffic. These roads would instead be used as pedestrian and cycle routes.

This means all traffic wishing to cross the A43 between Moulton and Overstone would have to use this roundabout.

To the north of the new roundabout, the existing stretch of the A43 would then be dualled for approximately a further 900m up to a new roundabout.

Steven Boyes, Northampton Borough Council's head of regeneration, enterprise and planning, said: "It is considered that the development could bring significant benefits to users of the road and local residents and that this would accord with the relevant planning policies and consequently, subject to no technical highway safety matters being raised by the Local Highway Authority no objections should be raised."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

A popular Nandos restaurant worker in Northampton has successfully walked an astonishing 70 miles from Northampton to London with his dog - all in the name of charity.

Emmanuel Peters, 24, who is well known as 'Preacher', set off on May 24 at 6.30am with his nine-month-old American Bulldog, Sosa, from his home in St James.

The challenging walk took 38-hours to complete, and saw the exhausted pair arrive at London Victoria station the next day at 8.30pm.

But despite being worn out, and in desperate need of sleep, Preacher managed to return to work just over 24 hours later, and pledge 'my next walk is to France or Wales!'

He said: "This has been such an amazing experience. I have met so many great people along the way."

"Now I plan to walk to Wales or France." Emmanuel has so far raised £1,700 for his three charities - Peace Child International, Cynthia Spencer Hospice and Sense.

Preacher works as a host at Nandos in Northampton.

Yesterday, West Mercia Police charged two men - Russell Anthony Oliver, 46 and Stephen Boorman, 30 - in connection with Mr York's murder.

Detective Inspector Mark Bellamy, who is leading the investigation, said the day before the men were charged: "We are currently working to ascertain the exact circumstances surrounding the death of Mr John York and our priority is to ensure those responsible are brought to swift justice."

"I would like to take this opportunity to pass my condolences to the victim's family at what must be a very difficult time."

York was one of three people jailed for life in March 2013 for the murder of grandfather Glenn Clary, 60, who was tied up and beaten to death in an attack in August 2012. See the full story online.

POLICE APPEAL: Do you know this man, wanted for a sexual assault on a 14-year-old girl?

Man is wanted for sex attack on girl

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A computer-generated image of a man wanted for a serious sexual assault on a 14-year-old girl in Northampton has been released by officers investigating the case.

The girl was attacked in an alleyway between Lings Way and East Butterfield Court in Goldings at about 9.15pm last Thursday.

Since the attack, patrols in the area have been increased and a computerised e-fit image of the attacker has now been released.

Detective Chief Inspector Martin Kinchin, who is leading the investigation, has urged members of the public to contact the force if they recognise the man.

The attacker is white, stocky, about 5ft 1in and in his 30s. He has short shaven hair, a round, red face and a large nose.

At the time of the attack, he was wearing a grey hooded tracksuit top, dark coloured bottoms and dark trainers. He spoke with an eastern European accent.

In light of the attack, DCI Kinchin urged residents to take sensible precautions when out alone in the area, but emphasised that such attacks were rare.

He said: "I must stress, this is a rare type of offence in Northamptonshire and our aim is to catch this person as soon as possible."

No Cyril Smith witnesses found

Northamptonshire Police say 'no witnesses' have yet been found to back-up allegations the late MP Cyril Smith was found with child abuse images in his car boot.

The police force has released a statement following the allegations, which claim the Liberal MP, who died in 2010, was stopped on the M1 in Northamptonshire during the 1980s.

The claims, which were published in a new book, allege that Mr Smith was then released after making a telephone call to an unidentified third party in London.

In a statement reassuring the public of the 'complete transparency' in the investigation, assistant Chief Constable Ivan Balhatchet said: "On behalf of Northamptonshire Police, I would like to reassure everyone there is complete transparency in the investigation into the allegations that Cyril Smith was stopped in Northamptonshire with indecent images of children in the early 1980s.

"A thorough and far-reaching investigation by the Force's Cold Case Team is continuing and we have been working with other forces involved in the wider investigation."

Chief officers have been interviewed but he said: "As yet, no witnesses have been found in relation to these allegations, however, we are continuing to search our archives and have widened the scope of our witness search, which includes contacting the people who were chief officers at the time.

"The investigation will continue until all reasonable lines of enquiry have been exhausted and the public can be assured that further updates will be provided as soon as we are in a position to do so."

God

Emmanuel Peters, mostly well known as Nandos worker 'Preacher', says he must have God.

The St James resident says that with God by his side, he feels he can get through any challenge in life.

He proved this recently by walking from Northampton all the way to London for charity. Read the story on page 3.

Civil war hits county

Forgotten history

History expert Mike Ingram looks back on the forgotten history of Northamptonshire. You can read all of his weekly blogs online at www.northampton-news-hp.co.uk

In March 1643, Rockingham Castle was captured by Parliamentarian general Thomas, Lord Grey of Groby, during a raid on the north of the county, which swept through Market Harborough and Oundle. He immediately set about strengthening its defences and adding cannon.

With the increasing threat from Royalist raids, in May 1643 the Parliament authorities ordered that every household in Northampton provided one man every afternoon to build fortifications around the northern edge of the town.

This included a number of gun emplacements known as mounts. And, it is from these which were built along the old town wall that 'the Mounts' gets its name today. A gunpowder mill was also built to the south, outside the town walls, where Morrisons now stand.

Also in May, a raid led by Royalist Henry Hastings, soon to be 1st Baron Loughborough, went through Wellingborough and Kettering and to the walls of Rockingham, disarming 'malignants' as they went, before being driven off. Another attack on Rockingham in June again failed to take the castle but succeeded in taking 1,000 cattle, sheep and horses from the forest. Those animals that could be proved to be from local residents were returned to their owners. Royalist parties from Belvoir and the garrison at Newark harried east Northants in April to late July 1643, before being stopped by Oliver Cromwell's cavalry.

Parliamentarian pamphlets also reported psychological warfare by the Earl of Northampton who loaded up wounded parliamentarians in carts and left them in 'ill affected parts and villages' of Northamptonshire in the spring of 1643.

The Royalists were not having it all their way as Rockingham Castle also served as a base for raids into Royalist territory in Leicestershire and Rutland. When a Royalist party attempted to recruit in Crick in early June 1643, they were caught by Parliamentarian forces, and a number of officers were taken prisoner to Northampton.

Deaf actor is in abuse film

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A deaf Northampton actor has starred in an eye-opening NSPCC film about the realities of sexual abuse to deaf children.

Alex Nowak, 22, has played a part in a seven-minute short film called The Underwear Rule, which aims to help protect deaf children from abuse.

The video, which is delivered using British Sign Language and subtitles, shows Alex acting the part of a youth worker, who is seen at a deaf club giving a seven-year-old girl a lollipop.

The worker then asks the girl if she wants some more - which she replies to with a yes. But at this point, the worker then asks to see the girl's bottom, and promises to keep it a secret.

Remembering the advice her father gave to her a few days before, where she was warned not to show her private parts to a stranger, the girl says no and then tells her dad what happened.

"The film covers a very important topic - it shows how deaf children can be easily exposed to abuse," Alex said. "The video also shows how it can be prevented."

"Due to communication breakdown among vulnerable deaf children, this can lead to high risk of abuse. Therefore the Underwear Rule film is so important to show young deaf people."

YOU ARE INVITED TO

A FREE ASSESSMENT AND VALUATION DAY

You are invited to attend our assessment, valuation and purchase day, where TOP PRICES are agreed and offered.

Just bring along your chosen items; our valuer will give you a free appraisal and a current estimation of value. We will then discuss your best course of action and either make an offer of purchase or provide advice on your other options.

Antiques television programmes have made people more aware of the potential value of their belongings, however, the best method of realising the true cash value is not always made clear.

There are many items that are not so obviously valuable and this is where the professional valuer's expertise comes in.

There are times when the exposure of an auction is beneficial - let our experts help you to decide, but many items, where a known or intrinsic value can be simply assessed such as Gold, are just not suited for sale at auction.

Without advice, auctions can actually LOSE you money. After weeks of waiting, and assuming your item sells - commission charges, premiums and taxes reduce your likely share to only two thirds of the total transaction payment!

This is how we are able to offer you a high purchase figure as there's no premium for us and NO STOPPAGES for you, just an immediate cash settlement.

MOVING ON: Natalie and Ian Jackson are expecting their first child

Market Kitchen's last dish of the day

A popular eatery in Northampton is changing hands after nearly six years in the town centre.

Husband and wife team, Natalie and Ian Jackson, closed The Market Kitchen yesterday after having served thousands of customers over the years in the Market Square.

The couple made the decision to 'take a break' and hand the business on because they are expecting their first child on July 7, and so they now want to 'spend some time together as a new family'.

In a message to their diners, the couple said although they no longer own the business, they have handed it over to a new owner who intends to provide a similar service to what they have.

The message went on to say: "We would like to thank you all for your business, your support and your friendship over the last five and a half years. Love Ian and Natalie (and bump) XXX"

Sorry BB star out in a flash

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northampton model Aaron Frew has been removed from the Big Brother house after flashing to housemates.

The 24-year-old model (pictured) was kicked out of the house in last Thursday night's dramatic show after getting naked in front of housemates including 19-year-old Joel Williams.

Aaron and Joel were in the bedroom with Nick, Jack, Harriet, Sarah and Danny when the incident took place.

Aaron, who had a towel wrapped around the bottom half of his body, seemed drunk and was flashing himself to Joel and being rowdy.

Despite Joel's continual requests for him to behave himself, Aaron then continued to tease and flash to the amusement of some of the other housemates.

As a result of his actions, Aaron was called to the diary room where he was given his marching orders.

The news left Aaron in tears as he struggled to come to terms with what has happened.

Just before being given the news, Joel was called to the diary room where he voiced his disgust at what he had experienced.

He told Big Brother: "I feel really uncomfortable and to be totally honest, if it had continued I think it would have ended in me punching him just to sort of defend myself, because my personal space was invaded."

"...I want to emphasize that I did nothing at all to entice or welcome that approach and I just feel terribly awkward that I let it get that far."

Friday night's eviction will still go ahead, despite Aaron's departure.

FEEL GOOD FACTOR

Good living, getting out there and getting on with it in Northants

Local rider in Women's Tour race

Northamptonshire cyclist Hannah Barnes will race through her home county once again this year after it was confirmed she will take place in next month's Women's Tour cycle race.

The Towcester rider will lead the UnitedHealthcare Pro Cycling team during this year's tour, which will start at Bury St Edmunds on Wednesday, June 17 and finish in Hemel Hempstead on June 21.

The race will pass through Northamptonshire on June 20 - stage four of the event - from Oundle to Kettering.

We will be following the race in Northants, so stay tuned on our website for updates.

Life savers' reward

A couple of life saving University of Northampton library staff have been named as finalists in the St John Ambulance Everyday Heroes programme.

Fiona MacLellan and Lynne York, from the university's Library and Learning Services team, have been named as finalists in the awards programme, which celebrates the incredible stories of ordinary people who have used first aid to save a life.

The duo's bravery and quick thinking helped colleague John Coles, a Porter within 1st Degree Facilities, when he suffered a heart attack outside of Avenue Campus. John was driving at the time and the vehicle left the carriage-way and collided with a tree.

After assessing the situation and carefully removing John from the vehicle, Lynne started chest compressions and Fiona administered rescue breaths until the ambulance arrived. John received several AED shocks on the way to hospital and eventually started breathing again.

The achievements of successful nominees in the heroes awards will be celebrated at a ceremony on July 1 at Lancaster London Hotel.

Trip Advisor award for park

Visitors to Irchester Country Park have heaped praise on the countryside attraction, earning it a Certificate of Excellence from a customer review website.

The TripAdvisor website awards the accolade to attractions that receive consistently great reviews on its forum.

One TripAdvisor reviewer posted: "I have lived near the park for several years and enjoy walking and running there. Well maintained trails, a kids play area, picnic area, good little cafe and a dog free meadow. An excellent local resource all year round."

Doing numbers for cycle event

H&P Editor Steve Scoles on his quest for fitness and health helped by Trilogy Gym and a bike

Having signed up for the Solstice100 mountain bike event - a 103 mile ride starting and finishing at the Pomfret Arms in Northampton - I have been in the saddle almost every day for a week.

The sportive run by Vince Majors of MTB Epics UK happens on June 27 at 5.30am and takes riders through Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire including sections at Chicksands and Woburn.

A post on their Facebook site has summed up the event in numbers:

103 - total miles
61 - off-road miles
4,320 - ft elevation gain

34 - off-road sections
22 - pubs en-route
4 - weeks to go

An additional number is the 20 per cent of entry fees that will go to benefit the Northamptonshire Air Ambulance.

If you sign up online the fee is £20, on the day it is £25.

Meanwhile Martin my gym trainer and Barbara the swimming trainer, continue to put me through my paces which hopefully will have a complementary benefit when it comes to the bike ride.

Say Goodbye To Nerve Pain

Your nerve system is involved in everything your body does, from regulating your breathing to controlling your muscles and sensing heat and cold. Because your nerve system is so critical for your health when things go wrong with it you may experience excruciating pain and/or some very strange symptoms...

There are three types of nerves in the body:

1. Autonomic nerves. These nerves control the involuntary or partially voluntary activities of your body, including heart rate, blood pressure, digestion, and temperature regulation.
2. Motor nerves. These nerves control your movements and actions by passing information from your brain and spinal cord to your muscles.
3. Sensory nerves. These nerves relay information from your skin and muscles back to your spinal cord and brain. The information is then processed to let you feel pain and other sensations.

Because nerves are essential to all you do, nerve pain and damage can seriously affect your quality of life.

What Are the Symptoms of Nerve Pain and Nerve Damage?

With nerve damage there can be a wide array of symptoms. Which ones you may have depends on the location and type of nerves that are affected. Damage can occur to nerves in your brain and spinal cord. It can also occur in the peripheral nerves, which are located throughout the rest of your body.

Autonomic nerve damage may produce the following symptoms:

- Too much sweating or too little sweating
- Lightheadedness
- Dry eyes and mouth
- Constipation
- Bladder dysfunction
- Sexual dysfunction

Damage to motor nerves may produce the following symptoms:

- Weakness
- Muscle atrophy
- Twitching, also known as fasciculation
- Paralysis

Sensory nerve damage may produce the following symptoms:

- Pain
- Sensitivity
- Numbness
- Tingling or prickling
- Burning
- Problems with positional awareness

In some instances, people with nerve damage will have symptoms that indicate damage to two, or even three, different types of nerves. For instance, you might experience weakness and burning of your legs at the same time. To further complicate matters we don't all develop the same way and different un-expected nerves can cause similar problems. This has made it very difficult to diagnose disorders caused by nerve damage based on which nerve "should" cause what.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in technology that detects nerve damage has led to more precise diagnosis for those people suffering with nerve damage disorders.

And more precise diagnosis leads to better results... results which have been published in major medical journals. With data published in 2014 showing success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons are recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery (for nerve damage that leads to back pain and sciatica).

In Bedfordshire, you can get your body scanned for nerve damage the Atlas Wellness Centre.

What Your Agent Has To Say

Making lettings process simple

Letting a property can sometimes feel like managing your own business. You receive an income, you spend money on upkeep, you pay tax, and there's all sorts of legislation you need to keep abreast of and adhere to. Our aim is to make the lettings process as simple as possible.

Our landlord Portal is a new free online tool which enables landlords to log in and access all the information relating to their property. Like online banking, it aims to make the process simple for the customer by putting information at their fingertips in one place whenever they need it.

It offers landlords convenient, comprehensive communication. Everything concerning your rental property can be accessed in one place, updated every hour and accessible by you anytime. For example rental statements, maintenance records and even information for tax returns are now stored via our secure web portal.

Sean Nolan, Lettings Director, said: "As recipients of The Sunday Times Estate Agency of the year award for innovation we pride ourselves as the estate agents at the forefront of technology. This latest investment only further enhances our award-winning proposition and the feedback received from our existing landlords has been overwhelming. This is a real game changer."

Your Move Hobin Roberts offer free professional advice for any landlords who have any questions regarding their current portfolios, buy to let opportunities or recent changes to legislation. Please feel free to contact one of the team on 01604 629835

Rewiew: Alan Carr – Yap Yap Yap

There's something special about playing a gig in your home town.

You strike up an instant bond between each other – a mutual understanding.

And last Friday night, comedian Alan Carr did just that in front of a sell-out Royal & Derngate crowd.

As part of his Yap Yap Yap tour, the Chatty Man host has been whipping up roars of laughter all over the UK – but in Northampton it was a different. He was home. Tonight, for one night only, he could throw away half the script – and so he did.

Anything he could say about the town, he did. From getting stuck in traffic, through to his shock at the Greyfriars demolition.

Alan is as much a Carr-icature of a camp, carefree comic on the stage as he is on the telly.

In a series of anecdotes he reveals he has mincer's leg and, as a child, used to agonise over recurring cold sores.

At the end of the show, Alan bowed to a Northampton audience in standing ovation. And rightly so – Alan is ours, Alan is the best, despite what he might think of our town.

New cheeky generation of Vivas taking to the roads

With a familiar name, cheeky looks, generous equipment and a level of quality that confounds at a sub-£8k entry price, the new Vauxhall VIVA arrives in showrooms next month, just four months after its Geneva Show debut.

VIVA will appeal to customers looking for value for money, but who are not prepared to compromise on quality. And unlike many of its rivals, VIVA can accommodate up to five people and has the convenience of five doors.

The name pays homage to Vauxhall's original Viva made from 1963 to 1979, and the all-new VIVA shares the original's philosophy of clean lines, durability and practicality. It is designed for modern, everyday life and at 3.68 metres long is practical and spacious providing more than enough room for up to five people.

After first appearing in the ADAM ROCKS AIR and subsequently the New Corsa and

NICE TOUCH: The name pays homage to Vauxhall's original Viva

ADAM, VIVA is the latest Vauxhall to feature the new 1.0-litre three-cylinder ECOTEC engine. Specially-developed for VIVA and achieving up to 65.7mpg combined with CO2 emissions as low as 99g/km, this 75PS powertrain is smooth, punchy and efficient, and is mated to a slick five-speed transmission.

The 1.0-litre ECOTEC has four valves per cylinder, controlled by two overhead camshafts. The camshaft control is variable for the intake and exhaust sides, and combined with port injection ensures optimised gas exchange throughout the entire rpm range. This adds to both driving pleasure and efficiency.

The entire engine is designed for low friction oils with a viscosity grade of 5W-20. All of these measures ensure excellent fuel efficiency. VIVA's chassis and steering have been developed and benchmarked with rivals on UK roads to provide exceptional safety and class-leading comfort.

Like its stablemates ADAM and Corsa, VIVA will be fully connected thanks to the next generation IntelliLink infotainment system. Available from early 2016, IntelliLink allows seamless integration of Apple iOS and Android devices, including full compatibility with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto.

Vauxhall's all-new five-door VIVA will arrive in showrooms this month priced from £7,995 on-the-road.

Honda Civic

Take a look inside . . .

The Honda Civic has come in for a much-needed once-over, getting restyling at the front and the rear, while the interior gets higher quality fitments and a 7-inch Honda Connect touch screen. There's a sport trim level inserted into the range to bridge the gap to the turbo-charged Type-R range-topper.

Let's make note that there are some things about the Civic that are really, really good. The 1.6-litre diesel engine is a case in point. I don't think there's a better diesel in the whole supermini sector and it continues in this car, developing 120PS, which is about the sweet spot in this market sector. Smooth, lightweight, economical, tractable, this is a gem of an engine. There's also an entry-level 1.4-litre petrol engine on offer.

The underpinnings carry on largely unchanged. Which means a torsion bar rear end. Yes, I know that the Civic used to sport a multi-link rear end, but it pays to take a pragmatic view. The last Type-R was no shoddy handler and neither is the Renaultsport Megane, another proponent of the torsion bar rear end. There have been a few exterior design tweaks to both the Civic hatch and the Civic Tourer estate. Gone is the weirdly modern yet somewhat bland face and in comes revised headlight units with integrated daytime running lights and a more rakish front bumper assembly. The Civic hatchback also features a slicker design for the rear bumper, side skirts, a rear spoiler finished in black, plus LED rear lamps. The sum total of these changes is that the car now looks a lot more like an older eighth generation Civic. Retrograde? Not really. That car was a little peach.

Think of this update as doing a lot with not much. The Honda Civic was one of those unfortunate cars that was so nearly right, but just needed a bit of spit and polish to come good. It just received the requisite burnishing. While it's probably still not going to threaten the Volkswagen Golf and Ford Focus for class honours, it's now a car that looks a lot classier and which features more quality indoors. In other words, your friends won't look at you and wonder what came over you if you arrive home with one.

RUGBY LEAGUE: Northampton Demons travelled to the team they beat in last year's Grand Final – Telford Raiders – and extended their unbeaten run against them by coming away with a tough 26-22 victory in the Midlands Premier League.

Seb Ward scored a pair of tries and Tom Bailey, Christian Jacobs and Chris Gibbs also crossed the whitewash while Ollie Furniss added three conversions.

Coach Patrick Wilson said: "Telford is always a tough place to go and at times we made it hard on ourselves, but we certainly showed outrageous determination levels to stick it out.

"We played some exceptional rugby at times and if we can cut out conceding poor flop over tries like the three we did on Saturday, we will be in real business."

Next up for Demons is an away trip to bottom club New Ravens at Kings Norton RUFC on Saturday. They are currently two points clear in second place behind early pace setters Coventry Dragons.

CRICKET: FINEDON Dolben (226-6) continue to lead the Northamptonshire Cricket League Premier Division after a comfortable 95 run success over Stony Stratford (131 all out).

Rushden Town (264-8) are second and were two wicket winners over Old Northamptonians (263-9) despite Tom Heathfield's 5-70 haul for ON.

There was also a victory for third placed Peterborough Town (203-5) who saw off Northampton Saints (199 all out) by the narrow margin of four runs.

Horton House (150 all out) remain at the foot of the table without a victory after a 43 defeat to Rushton (191 all out).

Andrew Neate took 5-27 for Horton but Rushton's Marcus Steed replied with 6-26.

Oundle Town (154-4) saw off Wollaston (151 all out) by six wickets with Petrus Jefftha taking 5-65 for the victors.

ATHLETICS: RUGBY & Northampton Athletic Club maintained their 100 per cent record in the 2015 Youth Development League as they took victory in round two of the lower age groups with 561 points.

The success means R&N have a maximum 12 league points from two rounds after beating nearest rivals Charnwood by 56.5 points at Alexander Stadium in Birmingham.

The U15 boys led the way for the club by dominating their age group. Oliver Lambert scored a hat-trick of A wins in the 200 metres (23.8 seconds, personal best), 300m (38.4) and 80m hurdles (11.4).

Last over anguish means county still lack T20 win

Northamptonshire Steelbacks seamer Muhammad Azharullah was left to reflect on a cruel final over off his bowling in his side's five-wicket defeat to the Birmingham Bears in the NatWest T20 Blast on Friday.

Holders Birmingham required nine runs off the final six deliveries of the match in order to chase down the Steelbacks' 146-7 and Azharullah, who bowled well in taking 3-31, was the man trusted with the ball.

The 31-year-old Pakistani had played a large part in taking the game to the wire but sent down two wides, the first of which looked extremely harsh.

To add insult to injury, the Bears' winning runs came in the shape of four byes off the final ball as it squirted past wicketkeeper Adam Rossington, who was standing up to the stumps.

"I spoke with the umpire about the first wide and he said it was a judgement call and I can't really argue with his decision," said Azharullah.

"It's just one of those things and what you do is compose yourself, come back and work hard.

"At the end I bowled one loose ball where I went for a wide Yorker but it didn't go there, it fell short although Rob Keogh did well fielding and we got a run out.

"We had a discussion before the last ball and everything looked to be going according to plan, but the ball just went through – everyone just missed it.

"In the end, though, it was just a good game of cricket."

A batting collapse late in the Steelbacks' innings that saw them slide from 124-4 to 126-7 in the end proved to be costly as they failed to build on Richard Levi's 58 at the top of the order.

Although they pushed Birmingham all the way, this was still their second defeat from two in T20 competition even if this was a much better showing than at Durham first time out.

Azharullah said: "I think the batsmen felt they fell a bit short because we were looking for about 160-170 as a par score.

"We lost our way towards the end and we got about 45 in the last six overs where we needed to keep wickets in hand and unfortunately that didn't happen."

For Azharullah, who was the top wicket-taker in the competition with 27 to help Northants lift the Friends Life T20 title in 2013, this was a decent return to this format after he was left out of their previous game.

He said: "I got dropped because I didn't do well last year so I needed some wickets and some confidence.

"Obviously the last over didn't go according to plan, but I'll work hard and I'll try to get myself back to where I was in 2013."

Steelbacks captain Alex Wakely said the contest was a 'very good game of cricket'.

"We were probably 20 runs short and their two best bowlers knocked us back a bit after the powerplay," he said.

"They pulled it back, we scored a run a ball in the middle of the innings and we couldn't get any at the end. We put a great effort in to defend it but this game is about small margins.

"If every game ended like that, you'd be a happy spectator but I'm beginning to think that if you score 160 on this ground, you'll win more than you lose."

Northamptonshire's next match in the northern group of the T20 Blast is tomorrow night (Friday) when Worcestershire will be the visitors to Wantage Road.

Meanwhile, Northants all-rounder David Willey has been called up by England for their five-day one day international series against New Zealand, which begins at Edgbaston on Tuesday.

He made his debut for his country in the washed out match with Ireland last month and will have another chance to impress against the Kiwis.

"To be given this second opportunity is flattering and I can't wait to play against the World Cup runners up and some of the best one day cricketers in the world," said Willey.

Wales of despair as Northants are well beaten

Glamorgan (371 and 57-0) beat Northamptonshire (157 and 269 f/o) by ten wickets

Northamptonshire were beaten in Division Two of the County Championship for the first time this season as they were thrashed by Glamorgan.

David Ripley's men set the Welsh side a target of just 56 for victory on the final day yesterday (Wednesday) after being asked to follow on at Sophia Gardens in Cardiff.

Although 115 overs were lost over the four days due to rain, there were almost two sessions remaining when Glamorgan completed their victory shortly before 3pm.

The visitors, who were being skippered by David Willey with Alex Wakely on paternity leave, won the toss and elected to field on a green looking pitch after no play was possible before lunch on the opening morning.

TON UP: Rob Newton reached three figures but Northants were beaten

That looked like the correct decision when Glamorgan were reduced to 150-6 but their tail wagged and they were able to recover to 371 all out, largely thanks to Craig Meschede who reached 107 before being dismissed.

South African Rory Kleinveldt took 3-91 for Northants who then suffered a nightmare start to their innings. Stephen Peters and night watchman Muhammad Azharullah took the score to 28 without loss but the county then lost four wickets for just one run in 24 balls.

Peters was the first to go when he had his off stump uprooted by Michael Hogan and he was quickly followed by Kyle Coetzer who chipped Hogan to midwicket without scoring.

The collapse continued when Azharullah edged to slip off Craig Meschede, who then had Rob Newton caught by Mark Wallace.

Rob Keogh was caught in Rory Smith's first over to make it 33-5 before Josh Cobb and Adam Rossington counter attacked effectively with some robust stroke play.

Both passed 50 and then fell shortly afterwards with Cobb going for 54 and Rossington being run out for exactly 50.

Nobody else contributed significantly to the total and Northants were eventually dismissed for 157, 214 runs behind and not enough to avoid the follow on.

Disaster struck when Peters was dismissed from the first ball of the second innings, caught behind by Wallace off the bowling of Graham Wagg.

Coetzer was then bowled by Wagg for four to leave Glamorgan in total control with the visitors on 15-2.

A fine 100 plus partnership between Newton, who went on to make 107, and Rob Keogh, provided some resistance and Rossington made 55 to claim a second half century in the match. But their eventual total of 269 was nowhere near enough to cause Glamorgan any problems.

Openers William Bragg and Jacques Rudolph took 20.5 overs to ease to 57-0 and claim victory.

Northants have slipped to fourth in Division Two, one place outside of the promotion spots, ahead of the visit of Essex in their next four day contest which begins on Sunday.

Hartley 'devastated' after England World Cup axing

SAINTS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

Saints skipper Dylan Hartley said he was 'devastated' after his latest display of ill discipline saw him axed from England's World Cup squad.

The hooker was slapped with a four week ban after he admitted headbutting Saracens' Jamie George and national team boss Stuart Lancaster responded by removing him from his 50-man training party.

Hartley, who missed the Lions' tour to Australia after being sent off in the 2013 Premiership final, is now set to sit out another huge event with England hosting the World Cup later this year in September and October.

His ban rules him out of his country's warm-up fixtures and their tournament opener against Fiji at Twickenham to present obvious problems to Lancaster.

"I am devastated with what has happened and the position I have put myself and the England team in," said Hartley. "I would like to apologise to Jamie, Stuart, and my team mates both at Saints as well as England.

"What happened is not acceptable and I understand why this decision has been made."

Hartley was not punished on the pitch for the headbutt in Saints' Premiership semi-final defeat to Sarries but was cited afterwards and faced an RFU panel.

There was minimal contact and George was not injured, but Hartley's poor history of disciplinary problems worked against him. He has now been banned for over a year of his career after a string of controversial incidents and in a further twist to the story George, also a hooker, has now been called up by England to take his place.

"We are obviously very disappointed with the situation that Dylan has put himself in and where that leaves us as a squad," said Lancaster.

"I have spoken to him and he knows he has let himself and everyone down.

"If we selected him in the World

Cup squad he would have played no competitive rugby at all and we would be left exposed with only two available hookers in what is a specialised position going into the Fiji game.

"All it would take is one injury during the week of the Fiji game and we would only have one fit hooker in the squad for our crucial opening game and this would leave us massively exposed.

"In addition, the regulations also clearly state that in our World Cup squad we must have sufficient cover that is suitably trained and experienced in the front row in case of injury.

"This is clearly not the case if we begin the tournament with a suspended hooker and as such we have been left with no choice but to replace him.

"It also goes without saying that we need all our players to be able to control their discipline and make good decisions under pressure, the World Cup will clearly require this, and Dylan has not clearly displayed this in this latest incident.

"This is an area that he still needs to address."

Hartley's red card in the 2013 Premiership final, which was against Leicester Tigers, was for comments made to referee Wayne Barnes and resulted in an 11 week suspension.

He was handed a massive 26 week ban for eye gouging Wasps duo Jonny O'Connor and James Haskell in 2007 and in the season just gone was banned for three weeks for elbowing Leicester man Matt Smith.

He denied, however, that the latest setback would signal the end of his international career.

"There is absolutely no truth in the speculation I may quit international rugby," he told The Sun.

"I feel I can still contribute and as long as Stuart Lancaster thinks that too, that's all that matters.

"I need to channel my hurt into training because, when the World Cup starts, I need to be in a good place fitness-wise in case of injuries.

"But let me say straight away that I don't want, or expect, any sympathy for my ban over the incident with Jamie George. I've got to accept it and move on."

Foyle plays a vital role as ex-Derby man Lelan signs on for Cobblers

COBBLERS

Cobblers head of recruitment Martin Foyle had a key role to play in bringing newly signed defender Josh Lelan to Sixfields.

Foyle, a former manager at Port Vale, York City and Hereford United, came into his role at Northampton in February and with a busy summer of arrivals at the club already underway is starting to leave his mark.

His recommendation of Lelan, a former Derby County right-back, certainly seems to have impressed Cobblers boss Chris Wilder.

"He comes highly recommended from our contacts," said Wilder on the capture of the 20-year-old, who has signed a one year deal.

"Martin Foyle has done a lot of work on this deal and we are pleased to welcome Josh to Sixfields."

Lelan was released by Derby, who earlier this month replaced boss Steve McClaren with former Real Madrid assistant Paul Clement, at the end of the season.

After coming through the ranks at the Rams he never made a senior appearance at the iPro Stadium.

"Josh is a right back who is mobile and athletic and he can fill in other positions as well," said Wilder.

"He has a good pedigree, he has had a good grounding with Derby and he has had loan spells at clubs who play a good footballing style.

"He was close to Derby's first team, but the change of management pushed him down the pecking order and he is keen to try and push his way into first team football.

"In a way his background is similar to Lawson D'Ath, a youngster with a good grounding and a handful of games under his belt from a few loan spells, and like Lawson last year, he is joining us at a good age. He has impressed me when I have seen him and he conducts himself well."

Lelan joined the club on Tuesday and became Wilder's second defensive addition in quick succession after released Preston North End left back David Buchanan arrived last week.

"David is a determined and tenacious full-back and we are delighted to have him on board," said Wilder.

Midfield duo Alfie Potter and Nicky Adams have also signed for the club this summer.

COBBLERS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@nmedia.co.uk

Northampton Town are closing in on a new goalkeeper as Chris Wilder's squad re-build continues apace.

A first choice stopper is a top priority for the Cobblers boss after his decision to release veteran number one Matt Duke at the end of the season.

Wilder said he could not guarantee the 37-year-old first team football and with Iraq born Shwan Jalal also not tied down after his short term contract expired, it left Northampton without a senior goalkeeper on their books ahead of the new League Two campaign.

That, though, looks set to change imminently and Wilder is also close to bagging a new central defender.

"We are in talks with a number of players at the moment," he said.

"We are down the line with talks with a goalkeeper and a central defender, and we are making progress in those talks."

Wilder has previously stated that he wants a younger first choice goalkeeper and that a loan from a Premier League or Championship club could be an option.

The boss did take a look at Tottenham Hotspur product

Jordan Archer during 2014/15 but Duke eventually won the battle for the gloves.

"Matt's had a really good career but we're going down the younger route," Wilder said earlier this month.

"A young goalkeeper on a season long loan - I know the club took that option a couple of years ago and had a lot of success with it.

"We feel Matt wants to play first team football, he's at a stage where he wants and needs regular first team football and I've had conversations with him regarding that and he feels he wants that.

"Unfortunately I can't guarantee him that and he goes with our best wishes.

"That was a real tough decision, I've known Matt a long time and he's done well this season for us, but it's a longer term view with Matt that we're taking."

Wilder highlighted the cases of Charlton Athletic's Nick Pope and Fulham's Marcus Bettinelli - who went to Bury and Accrington Stanley respectively - as good examples of the loan system working effectively for both higher and lower level clubs.

Northampton also played Wigan's Lee Nicholls in between the sticks for the entire 2012/13 campaign.
